My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE zealous and uniform Regard which you have ſhewn to the general Intereſts of My People, and particularly the prudent, firm and ſpirited Support, which you have continued to afford Me, in the Proſecution of the great Conteſt in which We are ſtill unavoidably engaged, demand My warmeſt Acknowledgments.

The Encouragement which my Allies muſt derive from the Knowledge of your Sentiments, and the extraordinary Exertions which you have enabled Me to make, in ſupporting and augmenting My Naval and Military Forces, afford the Means moſt likely to conduce to the Reſtoration of Peace to theſe Kingdoms, and to the Re-eſtabliſhment of General Tranquillity, on a ſecure, an honorable, and a laſting Foundation.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have to return you My hearty Thanks for the liberal and ample Supplies, which the Reſources of the Country have enabled you to provide, beyond all former Example, for the various Exigencies of the Public Service.

I have alſo to acknowledge, with peculiar Senſibility, the recent Proof which you have given Me of your Attachment to My Perſon and Family, in the Proviſion which you have made for ſettling the Eſtabliſhment of the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, and for extricating the Prince from the Incumbrances in which he was involved.

My

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is impoſſible to contemplate the internal Situation of the Enemy, with whom We are contending, without indulging an Hope that the preſent Circumſtances of France may, in their Effects, haſten the Return of ſuch a State of Order and Regular Government as may be capable of maintaining the accuſtomed Relations of Amity and Peace with other Powers.

The Iſſue, however, of theſe extraordinary Tranſactions, is out of the Reach of Human Foreſight.

Till that deſirable Period arrives, when My Subjects can be reſtored to the ſecure Enjoyment of the Bleſſings of Peace, I ſhall not fail to make the moſt effectual Uſe of the Force which you have put into My Hands.

It is with the utmoſt Satisfaction that I have recently received the Advices of an important and brilliant Succeſs obtained over the Enemy by a Detachment of My Fleet, under the able Conduct of Lord Bridport.

I have every Reaſon to rely on the Continuance of the diſtinguiſhed Bravery and Conduct of My Fleet and Armies, as well as of the Zeal, Spirit, and Perſeverance of My People, which have been uniformly manifeſted through the whole Courſe of this juſt and neceſſary War.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majeſty's Command, ſaid;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majeſty's Royal Will and Pleaſure, That this Parliament be prorogued to Wedneſday the Fifth Day of Auguſt next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Wedneſday the Fifth Day of Auguſt next.

Admiralty-Office, June 27.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies and Extract, were Yeſterday received at this Office.

Copy of a Letter from the Honorable Vice-Admiral Cornwallis, dated on Board His Majeſty's Ship Royal Sovereign, at Sea, the 11th of June, 1795, to Evan Nepean, Eſq; Secretary of the Admiralty.

SIR,

I Requeſt that you will be pleaſed to acquaint the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that, on the 6th Inſtant, a Ship having been chaced by the Squadron, a Signal was made to me from the Phaeton, that it was an Enemy's Frigate; but in the Evening Captain Stopford made me a Signal that he could not come up with the Chace, upon which I called him in, and brought to for the Night, being then in Latitude 47 deg. 28 min. Longitude 5 deg. 57 min. In the Morning of the 7th a Sail was ſeen again to the Eaſtward. I made the Signal for the Phaeton, Pallas and Kingsfiſher to chace, and followed them with the Line of Battle Ships: It was blowing freſh from the North. As we came in with the Land ſeveral large Ships were ſeen under Sail, which proved to be a French Squadron, conſiſting of Three Line of Battle Ships, Six Frigates, a Brig, a Sloop and Cutter. Some of them were at firſt ſtanding off Shore, but unfortunately the Wind was fair for them to get into Belleiſle Road, where I ſaw ſeveral large Ships at Anchor. We had got very near the Enemy's Ships, and I had hopes at firſt we ſhould have got up with them before they would have reached their Port; and I made the Signal for the Ships to form for their mutual Support, and engage the Enemy as they came up. The Phaeton fired ſeveral Shot, which the Line of Battle Ships returned from their Sterns. I followed as far as I thought it prudent, and then hauled the Wind. Soon after I ſaw Three Sail ſtanding in, I made the Signal to chace. They were Two French Frigates, and a large Dutch-built Ship in tow of one of them. They ſtood round the South End of Belleiſle. The headmoſt Ships got within Gun-Shot, and ſeveral were exchanged. The Kingsfiſher fired ſeveral Broadſides at the Frigates. They were obliged to caſt off the Ship in Tow; and rounding the Point of the Iſland we came upon a Convoy, chiefly Brigs. Eight of them were taken; but the Frigates running in Shore among Shoals, the Triumph and Phaeton having made Signals to me of Danger, were obliged to give over the Purſuit.

By what I can learn the Convoy came from Bourdeaux, laden with Wine, and under the Charge of the Three Line of Battle Ships and Eight Frigates. A Brig Corvette had anchored cloſe in with the South End of the Iſland in the Evening, whilſt the Frigates were chaced. At Night I directed Captain Stopford, in the Phaeton, to work in Shore, and if he did not perceive any Works to protect the Corvette, to endeavour to bring her out. He attempted it in the Morning, but they opened a Battery upon the Ship which he had not ſeen; and the Brig having been hauled very cloſe in Shore during the Night, Captain Stopford very properly thought it was not an Object of Conſequence enough to balance the Loſs the Ship was likely to ſuſtain, and therefore returned, having had One Man killed, Seven wounded, and Two of his Guns diſmounted. I find the Veſſels have Naval Stores as well as Wine. The Ship has Cannon, and I underſtand is laden with Naval and Ordnance Stores.

Two American Veſſels, laden with Proviſions of different Kinds, have been detained by the Squadron. I ſend them in by the Kingsfiſher. I have ordered Captain Goſſelin to join me again immediately.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Goſſelin, of His Majeſty's Sloop Kingsfiſher, dated Falmouth, June 24, 1795, to Evan Nepean, Eſq; Secretary of the Admiralty.

SIR,

YOU will be pleaſed to inform my Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty of the Arrival of His Majeſty's Sloop under my Command, off this Port, and of having ſeen the large Ship (captured by Vice-Admiral Cornwallis's Squadron on the 7th Inſtant) in Safety; all the reſt of the Convoy parted Company with me on the 19th in a ſevere Gale of Wind.

I am, &c.

(Signed) T. L. M. GOSSELIN.

Extract of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Cornwallis to Evan Nepean, Eſq; Secretary to the Admiralty.

Royal Sovereign, at Sea, June 19, 1795.

I Have the Honor of acquainting you, for the Information of the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that on the 16th in the Morning, ſtanding ing in with the Land, near the Fenmarks, I ſent the Phaeton a-head to look out for any of the Enemy's Ships upon the Coaſt. I ſtood after her with the reſt of the Ships *. At Ten ſhe made a Signal for ſeeing a Fleet a-head, and afterwards that they were of ſuperior Force. Upon her bringing-to, I made the Signal to haul to the Wind upon the Starboard Tack. At this Time I could not ſee the Hulls of the ſtrange Sails. Thirty were counted, and ſome of them had all their Sail out upon a Wind, being directly to Leeward of us. I ſtood upon the Starboard Tack with all our Sail, keeping the Ships collected. Upon enquiring by Signal the Enemy's Force, Capt. Stopford anſwered, Thirteen Line of Battle Ships, Fourteen Frigates, Two Brigs, and a Cutter; in all Thirty Sail. Near Half of them tacked in Shore in the Afternoon; the Wind fell very much, and came round to the Northward, off the Land, and of courſe brought thoſe Ships of the Enemy (which had tacked) to Windward, and the others laid up for us. They were ſeen in the Morning before it was Daylight, upon both Quarters of the Squadron.

At Nine in the Morning one of the Front Line of Battle Ships began to fire upon the Mars. Their Frigates were ranged up abreaſt of us to Windward, except one, which kept to Leeward, and ran up upon the Larboard Quarter of the Mars, then yawed and fired, which was frequently repeated. This was the only Frigate that attempted any Thing. The Line of Battle Ships came up in Succeſſion, and a teazing Fire, with Intervals, was kept up during the whole Day. In the Evening they made a Shew of a more ſerious Attack upon the Mars, (which had gotten a little to Leeward) and obliged me to bear up for her Support. This was their laſt Effort, if any Thing they did can deſerve that Appellation. Several Shot were fired for Two Hours after, but they appeared to be drawing off, and before Sun-ſet their whole Fleet had tacked and were ſtanding from us. The Mars and Triumph being the ſternmoſt Ships were of courſe more expoſed to the Enemy's Fire; and I cannot too much commend the ſpirited Conduct of Sir Charles Cotton and Sir Eraſmus Gower, the Captains of thoſe Ships. Lord Charles Fitzgerald alſo in the Brunſwick kept up a very good Fire from the After Guns, but that Ship was the whole Time obliged to carry every Sail. The Bellerophon being nearly under the ſame Circumſtances, I was glad to keep in ſome Meaſure as a Reſerve, having Reaſon at firſt to ſuppoſe there would be full Occaſion for the utmoſt Exertion of us all, and being rather a-head of me was not able to fire much. I conſidered that Ship as a Treaſure in Store, having heard of her former Atchievements, and obſerving the Spirit manifeſted by all on Board when ſhe paſſed me, joined to the Activity and Zeal ſhewed by Lord Cranſtoun during the whole Cruize. I am alſo much indebted to Captain Whitby for his Activity and unremitted Diligence on Board the Royal Sovereign. The Frigates ſhewed the greateſt Attention and Alertneſs. I kept the Pallas near me, to repeat Signals, which Captain Curzon performed very much to my Satisfaction. Indeed, I ſhall ever feel the Impreſſion which the good Conduct of the Captains, Officers, Seamen, Marines and Soldiers in the Squadron has made on my Mind; and it was the greateſt Pleaſure I ever received to ſee the Spirit manifeſted by the Men, who, inſtead of being caſt down at ſeeing Thirty Sail of the Enemy's Ships attacking our little Squadron, were in the higheſt Spirits imaginable. I do not mean the Royal Sovereign alone, the ſame Spirit was ſhewn in all the Ships as they came near me; and although (circumſtanced as we were) we had no great Reaſon to complain of the Conduct of the Enemy, yet our Men could not help repeatedly expreſſing their Contempt of them. Could common Prudence have allowed me to let looſe their Valour, I hardly know what might not have been accompliſhed by ſuch Men.

Little Damage has been received by the Ships in general, except the Sterns having been very much ſhook by firing the Guns. The Mars reports Twelve Men wounded, but none killed; the Main-Maſt, Fore and Fore-Top-Sail-Yard wounded, and her Rigging and Sails cut a good Deal. The Triumph has ſhifted and repaired ſome of her Sails, but any Damage ſhe has received is ſo trifling, at leaſt in her Captain's Eye, that Sir Eraſmus Gower has not thought it worth reporting; indeed, the cool and firm Conduct of that Ship was ſuch, that it appeared to me the Enemy's Ships dared not to come near her.

It has blown hard from the North-Eaſt ſince I parted from the French Fleet.

I take the firſt Opportunity of ſending this by the Phaeton, leſt, upon hearing that the French Fleet are at Sea, their Lordſhips may be under Apprehenſions for the Safety of theſe Ships.

* Mars, Triumph, Brunſwick, Bellerophon, Phaeton and Pallas.

Copy of a Letter from the Honorable Captain Cochrane, of His Majeſty's Ship Thetis, to Evan Nepean, Eſq; Secretary of the Admiralty, dated Halifax Harbour, May 28, 1795.

On Board His Majeſty's Ship Thetis,
Halifax Harbour, May 28, 1795.

SIR,

BE pleaſed to acquaint the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that in conſequence of Orders from Rear-Admiral Murray to cruize off the Cheſapeak, to intercept the Three French Store-Ships then laying in Hampton Roads and ready for Sea, I proceeded, on the 2d Inſtant, with His Majeſty's Ship Huſſar, and on the 17th Inſtant, at Day-Break, Cape Henry bearing E. by S. diſtant Twenty Leagues, we diſcovered Five Sail of Ships ſtanding to the N. W. with their Larboard Tacks on Board. We ſoon perceived that they were Ships of Force; Two of them appeared to carry from 28 to 30 Guns on their Main Decks, One of which had Lower Deck Ports; the Three others from 20 to 24 Guns.

On obſerving us ſtanding towards them, they formed a Line of Battle a-head, and waited to receive us. At Nine, A. M. I made the Huſſar's Signal to prepare to engage the Second Ship of the Enemy's Van, intending, in the Thetis, to attack the Centre Ship, which appeared the largeſt, with the Two others that formed their Rear.

At Half paſt Ten the Five French Ships hoiſted their Colours, the Second Ship from the Van carrying a Broad Pendant. By this Time we had got within Half Muſket Shot, when the Firing commenced on the Side of the Enemy, which was ſoon afterwards returned by His Majeſty's Ships.

Before

Before Eleven we had closed with the Enemy, and the Hussar had compelled the Commodore and his Second a-head to quit the Line, and make Sail to the E. S. E.

The Fire of both Ships then fell on the Centre Ship and those in the Rear. At a Quarter before Twelve the Three Ships struck their Colours; the Two in the Rear attempted, notwithstanding, to make off, One of which was soon brought-to by the Hussar. Within an Hour after the largest Ship struck, her Main and Fore Masts went over her Side. On taking Possession we found her to be La Prevoyante, pierced for 26 Guns on the Main Deck, with Four other Ports, which can be cut out at Pleasure, and Ten Ports below: She had only 24 mounted, Part of which they shifted over during the Action. The Ship that the Hussar had taken Possession of is called La Raison, carrying 18 Guns, but pierced for 24, which, with the other Three, had escaped from Guadaloupe on the 25th Ult. and were bound to one of the American Ports to take in a Cargo of Provisions and Naval Stores for France. I am sorry to say that we had Eight of our best Men killed, and Nine others wounded, some of them badly; the Hussar has been more fortunate, having only Two wounded.

From the Fire of the Three Rear Ships being principally directed at the Thetis, our Rigging and Sails were almost cut to pieces, our Lower Masts and Yards shot through, which, with the other Damages we received, prevented me from pursuing the Enemy, and to take Possession of those that had struck. The Damages sustained by the Hussar appeared to me in Proportion to ours; these Considerations, joined to the Information I had received, which I here enclose, made it absolutely necessary that I should not Risk the Separation of the Two Ships, which must have been the Case, had either of us followed the Enemy.

I cannot say too much in praise of Captain Beresford, for his Conduct in leading into Action, and while engaged. He speaks in the highest Terms of the Behaviour of his Officers and Ship's Company.

It is a Duty I owe to those under my immediate Command, to say, that one Soul seemed to animate the Whole, despising the apparent Superiority of the Enemy before we closed to feel their Pulse.

Allow me, in a particular Manner, to point out the Merits of Mr. Larmour, my First Lieutenant, to whom I am much indebted for the Assistance he afforded me during the Action. His Behaviour on this as well as every other Occasion justly entitles him to every Praise in my Power to bestow, and I hope may be found deserving of their Lordships Protection: Lieutenant Ravot, who was stationed on the Main Deck, conducted the Fire of the Guns under his Command much to my Satisfaction.

To Mr. Mackie, the Master, I shall ever feel obliged for the Assistance he gave me during the Action. The Carronades on the Quarter Deck were very ably served by Lieutenant Crebbin, and the Marines under his Command. La Prevoyante is a very fine Ship, about 143 Feet long, but not so broad as the Thetis; she can carry with ease 40 Guns; is only Two Years old.

La Raison is also a very fine Ship, and is coppered; and I trust they will both answer for His Majesty's Service. Being employed in taking on Board the Prisoners, and repairing our Damages during the Night, it was my Intention to proceed at Day-Light after the Enemy, in Company with the Hussar, leaving the Prizes under the Charge of Lieutenant Saville, of the Prince Edward Cutter, who joined soon after the Action, and used every endeavour to arrive up while engaged; but a fresh Breeze of Wind springing up early in the Morning, enabled them to get out of Sight before Day-Break.

I therefore proceeded with the Hussar and the Prizes to this Port in order to obtain the necessary Repairs.

I am, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

A. F. COCHRANE.

To Evan Nepean, Esq.

Horse-Guards, June 27.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are a Copy and an Extract, have been received from General Sir John Vaughan, K. B. by the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

COPY.

SIR, Martinico, April 16, 1795.

THE Enemy having gained to their Cause many of the French Inhabitants and Negroes in Grenada, and concerted Measures for raising an Insurrection in that Colony, which, from the Perfidy of the Inhabitants alluded to, they were invited to attempt, they conveyed to that Island, early in last Month, a Quantity of Arms and Ammunition, with a small Number of Troops, which, secretly joining themselves to the Conspirators, appeared suddenly in Arms.

Lieutenant-Governor Home and many other Gentlemen in the Country were surprized and made Prisoners. His Majesty's Troops being employed on many Points, this dangerous Revolt could not be immediately suppressed, though, from the Exertions of Captain Rogers, of His Majesty's Ship the Quebec, and of the Garrison there, joined to the Militia, they were kept in Check.

The unfortunate Death of Brigadier-General Lindsay, (whom I sent to command there) a few Days after his Arrival, retarded the Operations against them. Upon the Arrival of the Reinforcement, under the Convoy of Rear-Admiral Parker, at Barbadoes, Two Battalions, with a Detachment of Royal Artillery, were ordered to Grenada. Several Skirmishes happened since their Landing, in one of which, on the 10th Instant, it is with Concern I have learnt that Captain Stopford, of the 9th Regiment, Captain Hewan, of the 25th, and Ensign Baillie, of the 29th, were killed, and about Twenty Men killed and Sixty wounded, owing entirely to their attempting the Side of a steep Mountain, defended with Abbatis.

Brigadier-General Nicolls, whom I have sent to command there, will, I am satisfied, make every Exertion to subdue this Enemy; and I trust soon to receive good Accounts from him.

I am sorry to add, that the Enemy has committed many Acts of Barbarity.

In St. Vincent the Charibbs, instigated by the French, and joined by most of the French Inhabitants, seized a favourable Time, most treacherously, to attack the English Inhabitants of that Colony. The Acts of Cruelty, which they have committed upon defenceless Men, Women and Children, are beyond beyond Deſcription, and burning every Plantation in their Power.

Fortunately, by General Seton's Exertion, and that of the Navy under Captain Skinner of the Zebra, with the ſpirited Behaviour of the Garriſon and Inhabitants, they were beaten from a Poſt they occupied over Kingſton, with the Loſs of their Chief: And the Arrival of the 46th Regiment has enabled the Governor again to attack them, which he did on the 10th Inſtant, and ſucceeded in driving them from their Poſitions, with conſiderable Loſs on their Side, and but ſmall upon our's.

The Colony, from their Devaſtations, is reduced to a very diſtreſſed Situation.

I have the Honour to be, &c. &c.

JOHN VAUGHAN.

Right Hon. Henry Dundas,

Extract of a Letter from General Sir John Vaughan, K. B. to the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, dated Martinique, April 25, 1795.

I HAVE juſt received an Account from St. Lucia, that Brigadier-General Stewart, after taking Poſſeſſion of Vieux Fort and Neighbourhood, had proceeded to attack the Enemy's principal Place of Strength at Souffriere. He was attacked by the Enemy upon his March on the 20th Inſtant, who had formed an Ambuſcade. The Flank Companies of the 9th Regiment, and the Black Corps under Captain Malcolm, were the Troops engaged. The Enemy, after a ſevere Conflict, were driven back. Captain Malcolm and Captain Neſbitt of the 9th, were wounded, after behaving in the moſt gallant Manner. The Troops continued their March upon Souffriere, near to which, upon the mountainous Ground, our Attack was made, on the 22d Inſtant, by Brigadier-General Stewart; and, notwithſtanding there appears to have been the greateſt Exertions made by His Majeſty's Forces, they were unſucceſsful in their Object. Both Sides appear to have ſuffered conſiderably; but, as I have not yet received any Account from Brigadier-General Stewart, I cannot be accurate. I have, however, Reaſon to believe, that our Killed and Wounded, exceed 200, with ſeveral Officers.
